

Tamagawa University

Mio Kamoshida

Graduate school of agriculture (Master Course)

Prof. Seikou Sekikawa's seminar class

North angel

(Iris ensata var. spontanea)

My favorite Iris is wild-type Iris. Her name is North angel. She has a dignity befitting an angel.

Her petals are whitish pink. It's like sakura petals color. So I felt Japanese graceful from her color.

Moreover I thought her petals are like a butterfly wing. Because of they are form like flapping and have purple lines and yellow points. I felt they were beautiful that an angel has like butterfly wings.

I like her simple form and moderate color.