

The flower wearing the Force.

Ryuki Nakagawa

Kumo no ue

One day, I found the flower . I felt a strong Force from the flower.
The name of this flower is "Kumo no ue". Huh? "Kumo no ue" = above the clouds? I thought it was the "space". Because, it looks like the space itself. Its beautiful blue-purple color is like an endless space. And the beautiful yellow is like the stars in the space. The contrast between blue-purple and yellow is very beautiful. It reminded me of the brilliance of stars in the space. It's powerful and fantastic and mysterious. It reminded me of the brilliance of stars and shooting stars in the space. So I must have felt the Force!
It's a world above the clouds! Unfortunately, I have not seen the real thing. I would like to see the real thing someday...

May the Force be with you!
