

A flower with a perfect name, shape, and color

Tsurugi no mai

My favorite flower is the "Tsurugi no mai".

This flower is of the Edo type and is a flat-flowered Rokumei flower.

There are three reasons why I like this flower.

The first is that the name "Tsurugi no mai" is very cool.

This name is often used in games to increase the power of attack. Therefore, I liked the boldness of this flower even from its name.

Second, I felt its thorn-like shape was powerful.

Third, I like the color purple. The fact that this flower is composed of only one color is part of its charm.

For these reasons, "Tsurugi no mai" is a perfect flower in every way, and I love it.
